SCOPE

The continual Socio-Global problem of extreme poverty not only in the developing world but in the developed country like USA, has lead many to question the efficacy and efficiency of International Agencies, Governments, national and local non profits on socioeconomic growth and development as a means of extreme poverty alleviation. Indeed, the lack of convergence in standards of living across the globe is one of the great unresolved issues in development and growth of economics. On the other hand, global economy face significant environmental challenges, from averting dangerous climate change to halting bio-diversity loss and protecting global ecosystems. There has been debate over whether it is possible to achieve continuous economic growth whilst also tackling these challenges. In the UN climate Summit 2012 and 2015 Sustainable Development Goals Summit, the largest ever climate meeting, global leaders clearly demonstrate that economic growth and environmental performance must go hand in hand to protect mankind. It is very clear that climate is back on the global agenda more effectively again after many decades. Apart from that the world passes clear that climate is back on the global agenda again after many decades. Apart from that the world passes so many important momentums. World's super power is shifting to China from the USA and this may be a beginning of new economicer The year 2015 is going to be important as the entire world will shift from MDG's to SDG's. Hence it will be important to look at the entire scenario and evaluate how far all of these changes is going to impact extreme poverty after 2015, if all the countries are interested to create a world with "no poverty" and minimum environmental damage, after 2015 the entire world may become liveable to everyone. ICEEP 2017, will be a Next-Genconference rather than a traditional conference which evaluate and analyze history to evaluate the present and expect for a successful sustainable global future without poverty. We want to focus on "future scenarios". The organizing committee of GIVE GLOBALLY's Annual International conference on Ending Extreme Poverty: A CHALLENGING JOURNEY FROM MDG TO SDG 2017, invite everyone to join with this conference and contribute to build a discussion on the post 2015 agenda of economic growth, environment mitigation and poverty alleviation. Because the global journey from MDG to SDF Should be a big topic for brain storming to end extreme poverty.

EXTREME POVERTY FACTS

Fact 1

About one billion people, one-sixth of the world's population, live on less than $1 per day.

The U.S. currently spends $450 billion on its military, but only about $16 billion in official development assistance.

Fact 3

In Sub-Saharan Africa, more than 15 of every 100 children die before the age of five. In western Kenya, fertilizer costs more than twice what it costs in France or the U.S. Ethiopia is so deforested that rural households cannot use manure as fertilizer because they need it as cooking fuel.

The rich countries have repeatedly promised to give $210 billion (0.7% of their incomes) in official development assistance, but only give $69 billion.

Fact 5

Because of HIV/AIDS life expectancy in crisis countries like Botswana has dropped to below 40 years.

Millions of people, mostly children, die from malaria every year. For about $3 billion from the rich world, 2 million malaria deaths could be averted.

Fact 6

Fact 7

$25 billion a year would be enough to deliver life-saving health services to the low-income countries. The U.S. has recently given $200 billion per year in tax cuts.

Preliminary estimates show that the MDG can be met if foreign aid were increased by $75 billion per year, well within the promise of 0.7%.

Fact 8

All accepted abstract and full papers (for those who register for the conference) will be published in the refereed conference proceedings will be published electronically after the conference.
